

Bob Whorton

Bob Whorton worked for eleven years as a hospice chaplain at Sir Michael Sobell House in Oxford until the autumn of 2017. Bob and his wife Sue, and dog Molly, then made the journey to south-west France where they are busy setting up a small centre for reflection, spirituality and the arts.

He is a pastoral supervisor and trainer and has been closely involved with the Methodist Church's policy to make pastoral supervision an integral part of the life of the church. Bob is the author of Reflective Caring (SPCK 2011), Voices from the Hospice (SCM 2015), he co-edited Chaplaincy in Hospice and Palliative Care (JKP 2017) with Karen Murphy, and wrote the chapter on hospice chaplaincy in Spirituality in Hospice Care (eds. Andrew Goodhead and Nigel Hartley, JKP 2017).
